The bachelor thesis describes the historical development of Svitavy hospital and the nursing profession from its beginnings to the present. It focuses on the differences in educational opportunities and provision of nursing care in the last century and now. It focuses on the development of particular department from the first post-war years of 1945 to the present day. At the same time we can find here an important figure of main nurses and teachers staff SZŠ Svitavy, which contributed to the development of the nursing profession in Svitavy.

Center of work represents a qualitative research conducted by semi-structured interview. Research is looking at nurses of various functional classification and different ages, who have worked or are currently working in Svitavy hospital.
