

Report on the Master's Thesis by Any Vachadze:

THE BALTICS AFTER „DARK“: WAY TO THE EUROPEAN UNION

As supervisor I can only note, that the author of this work shows that she has a clear understanding of the topic and devoted much time to research.

The paper will discuss the most vulnerable transitional problems and the solutions exercised in the Baltic States. The core research question: Why was the Baltic States' transition successful, was analysed and answered. The paper will discuss the most vulnerable transitional problems and the solutions exercised in the Baltic States. The Theory of Modernization is connected with the topic of the Master's Thesis.

I must also appreciate the English used in this work, the professional terminology and the terminology used to present the arguments.

The author is also very familiar with the relevant foreign literature, mainly pertaining to the Baltic State and especially the Estonia.

The overall structure of the thesis is logical and well balanced. The analysis of the problem shows the author's academic approach to the topic of Political Science.

In my opinion, the work is well done, and overall I must say, that the work fully meets all the requirements of the Master thesis.
