Title of diploma thesis: Pharmacy in the region of Usti and its changes in the time

Background:

Objective of this diploma thesis is taking down outlines of the historical development of pharmacy in the town of Ústí nad Labem from the beginning up to now. The development of pharmacy is following in context of historical development of the town and surrounding region. At the same time there is a connection between principal termini of health service and historical development of pharmacy. This thesis deals with chronological description of particular pharmacies in the town of Ústí nad Labem. The last part is concerned with changes of pharmaceutical service after 1989 up to this date. This thesis also deals with pharmaceutical and chemical industry, its development and changes in time.

Methods:

Basic orientation of questions and original position for drawing up this thesis give me, besides textbooks and memoirs, pharmaceutical yearbooks, calendars, almanachs and other occasional press. The pharmaceutical historical Library of the Czech pharmaceutical museum in Kuks provides me all these printed sources of information. Some literature I also found in the Archive pharmacy in the town of Ústí nad Labem. I also used verbal knowledge of historiographers and witnesses.

Results:

This diploma thesis brings review of the development of pharmacy in the region of Ústí nad Labem from the beginning up to this date. The most is focused on today's region of Ústí nad Labem. This paper deals with first pharmacists in this region using period pharmaceutical and pharmacopoeial literature. This thesis is concerned furtherly with development of pharmaceutical service, origin and gradual development of pharmacies in the area. There is mentioned great personalities of pharmacy, origin and development of pharmaceutical education in the town. This thesis describes questions of pharmaceutical industry typical for the region – especially historical development of the Norgine factory.

Conclusions:

Ústí nad Labem region is rich in history of pharmacy, the beginning of pharmacy. In Ústí nad Labem gradually has been originated 33 pharmacies, in process of time 10 of them defunct. The number of pharmacies in Ústí nad Labem has still increased. Evidently we are expected next increase in connection with expansion of pharmacy chains.

Pharmaceutical industry is typical for town, nowadays develops thanks to companies Imunomedica and Viacell.
