The thesis deals with the phenomenon of otherness that pervades diverse socioscientific disciplines and approaches. Emphasis is placed mainly on the interdisciplinarity and the extent of provided opinions. It aspires to present otherness as a significant phenomenon for culturology in this manner.

Otherness, other, another, strange, face, guest, hospitality, socioscientific disciplines.