

Abstract

Title:

Doping - Awareness of female tennis players from the world elite group regarding the question of doping.

Thesis objective:

The objective of this thesis is to gather and evaluate information acquired using questionnaire surveys about the knowledge of top female tennis players from the world elite group related to the issue of doping, and the selection of information and materials for subsequent analysis.

Methods:

To achieve the objectives of the thesis, the author applied the questionnaire and document analysis sociological research method.

Results:

After evaluating the results of the questionnaire survey, a significantly insufficient awareness was discovered for one third of the respondents. The remaining two thirds show average knowledge in the monitored area.

Key words:

doping, anti-doping policy, prohibited list, doping control, tennis.