III. Průběh obhajoby

The student first presented her diploma thesis. Her presentation was concise and understandable. Also her answers to the comments of the referee and to the questions posed by other members of committee (were there any attempts to modify the reaction conditions or to add a base to the mobile phase, has the prepared compound been already tested for biological effects, what is the mechanism of action of amorolfine) were prompt and mostly correct.

Klasifikace very good
