

The aim of the work is to create a system for an automatic measurement and evaluation of data quality and performance monitoring of processes of data quality management based on Data Quality Scorecards. The goal of Data Quality Scorecards is to implement a multidimensional model for quantification of the relationship between data quality and business processes in the organization, monitoring these measures from various point of views on different aggregation levels.