

MUDr. SKALICKÝ, Tomáš

Five year period of experimental and clinical experience with radiofrequency ablation of liver tumors is described. RFA considerably extends the survival of patients with non-resectable liver metastases. The method has minimal complications and both mortality and morbidity are low.