Transformation of the US Foreign Policy

Diploma thesis „Transformation of the US Foreign Policy“ consists changes and transformations in the US foreign policy connected with alternations of president's administratives. Especially with the alternation in 2001, when Goerge W. Bush supplid Bill Clinton and than with 2009 when Barack Obama became president of the USA.

My essential resource were special books about US foreign policy. Thereafter books from the field of theory of international relations and finally I used internet resources as special articles or manifests records.

Diploma thesis is focused on foreign and security policy.

Arise and progress of the USA shaped American identity. Hypothesis of work is connected with issue that even conducts and acts of administratives could be different, policy always following this American self-identity.
