

This Diploma thesis is focused on the issue of the Umgebinde houses in the North Bohemia. The Umgebinde house is a unique architectural form of the vernacular house, which appears only in the definite area of the border region between the Czech Republic, Poland and Germany.

This thesis is based on a large, multiannual field research. The research was grounded on studying of scientific literature, archival sources or historical photo-documentation. In addition to documenting and describing the present situation in situ, the thesis is handling the origin, development, construction parameters or exterior and interior of the Umgebinde house and their regional spread.