

Proposed thesis deals with defects of human vision. We give a summary of methods for modeling and measuring of vision defects. We focus on the defects of the eye optical instrument. Our task is to model its degradations.