

The main topic of bachelor's thesis is the patients rights and status of patient information on patients' rights. This project is divided to a four chapters. The chapters 3, 4 are divided to more levels. In the empiric part is worked and evaluated research. Its aim is to find out the patients' knowledge about their rights and find out how they are respected by the health service workers. The results of research are evaluated in well ar-ranged tables and graphs. The author mentions the discussion about the research results in the final part of project. The enclosure, which is the part of this project, contains the documents, which are very close to the main topic. In the theoretic part were the documents referring to the patients' rights and history of the rights' patients.