

The purpose of this dissertation project titled Female Immigrants in Contemporary American Fiction of Ethnic Women Writers is to present and interpret complex fictional portrayals of "new" women immigrants. Their selection is based on the exclusive reading of seminal works of ten minority female authors, published between the years 1989 and 2004.