

ABSTRACT

Jana Zahradníčková: Microcosm aesthetics

/Bachelor thesis/ Prague 2011 – Charles University in Prague, Faculty of Education, Institute development in education. Pedagogy. Combined studies. 56 norm. p.

Focus of work: research study, which aims to introduce children to the life forms that surround us every day, but they are not visible to the naked eye.

Subject: microworld presentation by means of visual material, visible organisms that may be beneficial to us and dangerous at the same time.

Aim: To attract attention by simple game for children's science, which can cause both aesthetic and get them thinking.

Benefits, knowledge: based on personal experience, I realized how helpful for a foster home profession of educators is.

Key words: aesthetics, a microcosm, biology, medicine, Impressionism, education, advertising, deprivation, microbes.