

Issues concerning Islam are a frequently discussed topic. People discuss such matters in the context of terrorist attacks, conflicts or wars in Muslim countries. This paper focuses on perceptions concerning Islam among the Czech people, specifically among the inhabitants of Prague. This thesis will rate the level of knowledge regarding select topics from Islam and the overall position of Prague's inhabitants. Attention will also be focused on individual groups of residents according to age, gender, education or faith. The thesis also concentrates on sources used by Prague residents to acquire information regarding Islamic culture and Muslims.