

My work called Childish diet in connection with adjunct stuff deals with a question of childish feeding and it is centred concretely on stimulants and drinks intended for children or the most consumed by children. I attend especially to additives, so-called adjunct stuff which are high contained in these foodstuff and could make health hazard for children because it could influence hyperactivity, asthma or dermal problems. The purpose of this work is referring to presence of these injurants in food intended to children.