

Summary

The bachelor work is divided into three areas. The first one is theoretical and explains the history, development, utilities and rules of badminton. The second part describes the physical training, basic education and training methodology. The final section covers a particular primary school with badminton training, teacher activities, the use of school playground, and includes a practical part about my research of pupils' interest in badminton.