

TITLE:

Attacks on computers, servers and services.

SUMMARY:

The aim of theoretical part is to describe global software attacks on computer systems, servers and their services. It also describes the way of performing illegal attacks and dividing of attackers according to their knowledge of the issue. Practical part of the theses focuses focucec on an examination of basic safety and durability of university software systems.

KEYWORDS:

The attacks, attacker, computer, north, service, social engineering, foreign identity.