

The thesis works at a position of a pupil in the classroom, characterization of a young learner, a social group and a school class.

The conclusions are based on the results of the research which took place at a third class of a Basic School.