

In my graduation thesis with the title "Development of primary literacy of pupils from minority groups", I am trying to analyze teaching reading and writing of children belonging to ethnic minorities, who attend Czech schools. My thesis' target is to state possible approaches and recommendations how to develop the primary literacy of these children and how to minimize teaching problems. I also refer to legislature and possibilities of state assistance. The result of my thesis is mentioning different approaches of educators to teaching. Because factually it is up to them, how they cope with potential difficulties connected with teaching children from minorities to read and write.