

Resumé

The Bachelor thesis called The image of Croatia in selected Czech printed periodicals in 1995, deals with the reflection of dailies and weeklies (Rudé právo, Lidové noviny, Týden and Respekt) of events in Croatia within the specified time period. There are also selected moments on the social and cultural spheres of life taken into consideration besides the primarily political or military point of view of the printed material. The aim is especially to assess the degree of objectivity and controversy of the reports which reflected the aforementioned thematic areas in the Czech periodicals. It is also pointed out to the wrong information from tendentiously focusing articles and subsequently correction of fact errors and reinterpretation in terms of author's professional study was made for the sake of historical objectivity.
