

The bachelor thesis deals with orientation of students of the Information studies and librarianship in the offer and accessibility of electronic resources at the Charles University in Prague. The bachelor thesis describes the following topics. Describes of Study of electronic texts (Texty Jinonice), Portal of electronic resources, Portal of electronic journals, search engines Metalib and SFX. The bachelor simply describes required technology to access electronic resources such as EZProxy or Shibboleth. The thesis explains options of connect to electronic resources at Charles University of Prague. The last part includes the evaluation of survey that was focused on orientation and use of individual electronic resources.