Abstract

The submitted bachelor thesis Commented translation: La peur du loup consists of a theoretical and a practical part. The practical one is presented by a translation of selected chapters of the book La peur du loup by Geneviève Carbone. The main objective of this educational publication is to provide information about wolves to the widest group of readers possible. The theoretical part is focused on a text analysis of the original French text. It also provides commentary of different problems caused during the process of translation and used methods and solutions.

Keywords

Wolf, fear, text analysis, commented translation, translation problems, fiction