

Present thesis describes the whole history of the independent theological faculty, which was training 1950-1990 priests for the Czechoslovak Hussite Church. The study was done on the ground of published materials, not of archival items.