Abstract: The thesis Comparison of the school integration of immigrant children in France and in the Czech Republic, with the aim of providing a comprehensive description and comparison of the integration of immigrant children into French and Czech schools. I would like to find new ways of managing the problem in the Czech Republic by comparing these two approaches to educational systems for pupils with special educational needs. The work is based on my own experience with this problem in Czech Republic and the reality in France, also draws on interviews with educators and practitioners and is supported by a separate survey which was conducted among teachers in the Czech Republic and France.
