Title of the thesis: The French Institute in Prague – from its foundation till present

Keywords: Czech-French relations, institute, French language

Abstract:

The thesis engages in the French Institute in Prague and the development of its function from its foundation till present. The thesis describes the history of Czech-French relations that reach as far as to 14th century. Particular chapters of the thesis focus on the function and significance of the Institute in the context of history of Czechoslovakia. The thesis indicates the role modification of the French Institute in Prague since its foundation and describes its present function.