

Annotation

The subject of this work is the settlement of Čelákovice and its neighbour districts during the time of Linear pottery culture and Stroked Pottery culture. Many researches (both older and younger) of this region are still waiting for processing. The main subject of this work lies on list of localities and its detailed study. Individual chapters are dedicated to history of researches, natural environment and used methods. In the conclusion of this thesis there is a analysis of pottery and general characteristic of the settlement.

Key words: neolithic age – Čelákovice – Prague east district - settlement