

Abstract

The aim of the Bachelor Theses "The analysis of prison medium Pankrac Times" is to analyse the irregular prison magazine published by the convicts in Pankrac Prison in Prague. The theoretical part gives general information about the magazine, its history and objectives, the sections, the editorial council, the authors, the distribution, the graphic layout of the magazine and its funding. It analyses the form of the magazine throughout all the years when it was published, i.e. between the years 1995–1999 and then again from 2002 to 2010. The analytical part studies the graphical layout as well as the contents of the magazine. The first two available issues from each year when the magazine was published have been chosen for the analysis, altogether 26 issues are analysed.
