

Abstract

The diploma thesis „The Problems of Social Integration after Serving a Prison Sentence“ deals in theoretical part with theories of punishment and function and aim of prison sentence. In more detail attention is paid to serving a prison sentence especially programmes of treatment in theoretical part. The corrective function of imprisonment is not in the long term accomplished and there is necessity to improve the system of care for person released from prison. Thesis tries to show necessity of continuity and deepening penitentiary with post-penitentiary care. Opinions of prisoners on the life reality after release are noticed in research part of this work.