

The work is focused on well known Tibetan clan Mgar from the royal period of Tibetan history (ca 600-850). After the introduction describing Tibetan society in the royal period is analysed role of the Mgar clan in 2nd half of 7th century specially the role of negotiators of dynastic marriage of Tibetan ruler Songtsen Gampo and Chinese princess Wencheng and the role of military leaders and administrators of conquered territories. Except of that is the work focused on folklore and motifs of folk-literature connected to Mgar clan.