

Abstract

Bachelor thesis title: Terrorism as a political implement of fear

Goal: Aim of the thesis is to define the term Terrorism as a political implement of fear, its substance and it will elaborately get through the international political form of it

Methods: Data collection, Literature search and comparison

Results: Attacks of 11 September on the World Trade Center influenced the view of human to terrorism greatly. It launched a new era of terrorism at the same time. In this era government and international organizations have to count all the variants of unconventional combat. Security measures was change throughout the world and states headed by the U.S. hegemon accept the struggle against terrorism as a priority.

Key words:

Terrorism, politics, fear, safety, implement