

Abstract:

Presented bachelor work attempts a reflection of terms between Slovaks and Hungarians in Košice since 1918 until 1921. This work shows how compatible was Slovak's loyalty with a loyalty towards Habsburg monarchy and also if this loyalty has changed during the war into one towards Czechoslovak republic. The aim of this work was to identify the relationship of citizens to the newly created state, changes in their nation feeling and in the ethnic structure of the city. For pointing out the atmosphere in the city this work uses an analysis of east slovak periodical Slovenský východ, which was published in Košice.