

Abstract: This thesis is presenting actual state of vocabulary in common speech of the youngest generation in Český Těšín. The purpose of the research is to recognize and describe development and changes of word stock according to the research questionnaire. The work includes theoretical part which elucidate characteristics of main terms based on the review of the literature. The survey results are compared with state noticed in Český jazykový atlas and with sample of the oldest and middle generation.

Key words: Český Těšín, dialectology, vocabulary, the youngest generation