

Main theme of the thesis is the Czechoslovak Maneuvers in 1936. The thesis is divided into seven chapters.

The first chapter focuses on the creation of Czechoslovak army, the period 1918-1932. The second chapter targets the reorganization of army in the period 1932-1936. The Third chapter is dedicated to the issue of armed forces in the period of the Austrian emperor. The fourth chapter is focused on the Czechoslovak Maneuvres in 1936 and research preparations, course, and made knowleges from the great interwar's maneuvres of Czechoslovak army. The fifth chapter closes arbitration service in the maneuvres. The sixth chapter deals with foreign's delegations on maneuvres and finally the seventh chapter is devoted to attitude and reakcions of czechoslovak's press and mankind.