

The aim of the bachelor thesis is to compare the image of an aristocrat in the chronicles of the 14th century as well as its dependence on the concrete author of the particular chronicle. It observes how the goal of the chronicler and the recipient himself influence the perspective on the aristocrat and the appraisal of his person.