

Summary

Bachelor's thesis on the topic: The problems of a family of a child with disabilities, is dealt with the problems that arise after the child's disability. These problems include the psyche of parents, changes in lifestyle family, break with extended family and friends, or the question of whether to have another child. Furthermore, this thesis deals with the encounter with other parents of children with disabilities and social services that make life easier for families of children with disabilities. In conclusion, this thesis describes the financial contributions for families of children with disabilities, use of assistive devices and options for persons with disabilities in the coming years.