Implementation of Global Developmental Education in Low - Threshold Facility for Children and Youth in Čáslav.

The aim of this bachelor thesis is to describe an experiment, which is currently taking place in a low-threshold facility for children and youth called Domek. It describes the implementation of global developmental education with the possibility of interconnecting the topics and activities into the common activities of the facility Domek. The bachelor thesis consists of two parts. In the first part, which is theoretical, we are acquainted with the global developmental education, its goals, topics and methods. Further sections deal with the topic of low-threshold facilities in general, respectively with the facility Domek and the researches in other low-threshold facilities.

In the second, practical part, we are introduced to the project and its activities which have already taken place in the low-threshold facility and whose aims were to integrate the global developmental education into the ordinary activities.
