ABSTRACT

This bachelor thesis focused on interaction between the teacher and the learners during the English lessons. The aim is to find out if the teacher’s instructions help to create communicative environment in the class. Observation focused on teacher talk and follow-up analysis of observation sheets present the main methods of research.