

Abstract

The topic of bachelor thesis is Prague housing development Novodvorská. Thesis will introduce in a monographic elaboration the project of the housing development and its location, construction process, the architecture and urban solutions, also the persons of architects. It deals also with the internal conception of housing estate, color scheme, object of small and landscape architecture and especially artworks and their authors, often important representatives of the generation. Thesis will introduce the project within a brief historic context. Will compare Novodvorská with contemporary housing projects of the first half of 1960s, its specific and common features. On a theoretical level it will focus on contemporary issues of housing developments urbanism and discussion about their construction. At the end it will assess the level of the data funds that were gained.