

Summary

Author: Eliška Jílková

Title: Case Study of Physiotherapy Care of Patient after Surgery: Suture of the Rotator Cuff

This bachelor thesis focuses on the rupture of the rotator cuff. The thesis is divided into two main parts. The first section provides information about the etiology, complications, conservative and surgical treatment. The main objective is to point out on postoperative physiotherapy procedures.

The second, special part includes detailed case study of patient after suture of the rotator cuff. This part was developed based on the work with the patient during the special practice in MediCentrum Praha in the period 16.01.2012 - 02.06.2012.

Key words: rotator cuff, rupture, physiotherapy, case report