ABSTRACT

This thesis is focused on the description of the current marriage in the district town of Zdar nad Sazavou. The thesis is a methodology of field research, where I describe the basic information on how to collect information in the field. This work incorporates two general chapters on marriage. One is about how it is legally defined marriage in the Czech Republic, and the second deals with the status of marriage in human life.

An integral part of this thesis is also crucial appreciation of literature and sources and historical development and current form Zdarsky whole region.

In this thesis the main chapters are solved on three: the bridal, wedding day and the next day after the wedding. Each chapter has several requirements under subchapters.

Contemporary wedding in the district town Zdar nad Sazavou is the traditional model compares the captured in the 19th and 20th century. In some cases, to explain the concept in this thesis are treated further in history.

Keywords: wedding, groom, bride, Zdar nad Sazavou, fieldwork