Alfréd Fuchs – the Martyr for Judaism and Christianity

Jan Podlešák

The article is devoted to a significant and interesting personality of Czech culture in the first half of the 20th century – to PhDr. Alfréd Fuchs (born on June 23, 1892 in Prague – died on February 16, 1941 in the concentration camp in Dachau), a publicicist, writer, translator, thinker and martyr of nazism.