

Abstract

Title: Aggression and violent attitudes of football fans Slavia Praha

Object: There is aim of this project to find out and write about negative demonstrations of football fans of Slavia Prague club and their stance to aggression during football matches. How often and what form of violence we can meet at them and what leads them to mentioned action. They do not harm only their club but also the others at the stadium. Do they really interest in sport or it is only means for venting their aggression.

Methods: The following methods were used in this project: explorative pre-research and quantitative research work. I concentrated on stances of fans which take part in football matches in my pre-research. I will bring up some questions electronically and in writing. There I'll use my personal contacts for completing some questionnaires at fans of Slavia Prague club. I will try to involve some most fans to that action because then I'll be able generalize it for whole base of the fans of the club.

Results: On condition if fans of Slavia Prague club are aggressive in investigated manifestations or not it is confirmed the fact that the fans of SK Slavia Prague are not aggressive in next mentioned manifestations. The result of my research is that Slavia fans rank among moderate fans in our society. They are not looking for confrontation with some fans of other teams. Their negative demonstrations on the stadium are bounded in shouts and slogans. The fans don't take a part in aggressive conflicts and racism.

Key words: aggression, football fans, Slavia Prague club
