

Abstract

Main purpose of this thesis is to compare the financial supervision methods chosen in particular countries and to analyze contemporary and past legislative developments regarding the financial supervision over financial activities in the European Union. This thesis also analyzes method of financial supervision chosen in the Czech Republic with respect to financial supervision methods used in different countries and current legislative developments regarding the financial supervision over financial activities in the European Union.