

Abstract

Liability for damage caused by operation of motor vehicle is an objective liability and culpability is not necessary. This specific liability originates in real life usually while car accident. In the case that the injured person involved in the accident, his claim for damages is shorten. In the case of bodily harm he can claim reparation money and after that diminishing of social position. Other claims are material damage, lumpsum compensation, loss of earning and treatment costs. Issue of damages is very difficult, so injured people should ask for help competent representative, who takes care of their claims.