The Town

Me, You, Them. The place where I live.

Abstract:

This thesis deals with the topic of the town from historical, philosophical, psychological and artistic points of view on a general level. A subjective approach to the topic is presented in the didactic part, focused on using a town in art education, and the artwork, dedicated to a personal experience in a particular town – Pacov. This thesis further explores the town as an art motive from its historical use up to the present, the town as a space for artistic expression and the notion of „genius loci.“
