

Abstract

in English

I have chosen as the topic of my thesis “Enforcement of judgment regarding the raising of minors”, extended of matters related to international child abduction. Such topic is not being found interesting by me only it is also a very current topic and is being widely discussed in today’s society. And yet it is not a topic covered thoroughly enough, in my opinion. I have intended to present those issues of legal regulations that are causing certain difficulties when has been applied in practices, and therefore widely discussed among the professionals as well as the general public. Given the scope of my thesis I was not only engaged in theory, but I was also trying to find items in current legal regulations that shall be improved, despite its recent amendment.

I do justify my choice of this topic in the introduction part of the thesis and adumbrate the current social atmosphere of the area. In the second chapter entitled "Management in matters of custody held by the juvenile court," I analyze the issues related to the so called “best interests of the child”. In the third chapter I am specifically dealing with various aspects of enforcement of judgment regarding the raising of minors, which primary contains the legal regulations that have been issued pre and post the latest amendment, enforcement, fines, cooperation with authorities of social and legal protection of children, mediation procedures, costs, etc. The fourth chapter is devoted to international child abduction, both in terms of Czech as well as international law.

I do state in the conclusion of my thesis that I have tried some of the problematic issues both specify and adumbrate from my personal point of view of alternatively potential solutions, mainly to bring up ideas for consideration which way could the legal experts to take when proceeding with follow-up amendments of legislation. I have got subjective opinions while seeking answers to emerging questions, of course, and those I tried to correct by objective considerations, along collation of all the "pros and cons."