

Title

The value's system of primary school pupils

Anotation

This thesis deals with the value systems of students first elementary school. Briefly describes the concept of value in terms of various scientific disciplines, and describes the process of its formation, discusses the concept of value system. It deals with the influence of environment in shaping the value system of students and subject matter maps the current state on this issue. Practical part of points through a questionnaire survey on the current state of value orientations of children in connection with the experiment carried out using the lessons drama education.

Keywords

values, value system, moral behavior, ethical education, values formation, drama in the process of influencing the value orientation