

The subject of the thesis is to document probable main factors, that led to the rise of the Egyptian Middle Kingdom, that characterised its development and could lead to its later decline. Analysis is made in three chosen areas, which are administration, kingship and economy.