

ABSTRACT

This thesis deals with the picture of Marienbad microregion in the 19th and at the beginning of the 20th century in contemporary tourist guides, and on maps and city plans. Emphasis is put on historical-geographical problems, but thesis in part processes everyday spa life in this period, social and economic aspect of history, as well as progress of tourism and travelling in this area. The theses shows, how the servile colony on the domain of Teplá Monastery grew into the centre of microregion – present Marienbad.
